DAVIS WAY CONFERENCE

Will Be Held At This Place
This Morning At 10:30 O'Clock.

FIVE COUNTIES INTERESTED.

Visitors Will Be The Guests Of The City And County.

Prominent men from Todd, Logan, Simpson, Warren and other counties interested in the proposed Davis Way from Hopkinsville to Bowling Green will meet here to-day for another conference on the matter.

The meeting will be held at 10:30 this morning in the circuit court room, after which the visitors will be taken to Hotel Latham to dinner. In the afternoon the visitors will be taken in automobiles over the city and out on some of the county pikes, returning in time to see the ball game between Hopkinsville and Clarksville.

This will be the third county meeting in the interest of the Davis Way movement. The first was held August 3 at Elkton, when the Davis Way Association was organized with J. C. Penick, of Todd county, president, and County Attorney W. G. Davis, of Todd, as secretary.

An executive committee was appointed as follows, consisting of two from each of the counties through which the road runs, namely: Todd, Logan, Simpson and Warren; Todd, J. T. Page and E. B. Lindsay; Simpson, H. S. McCutcheon and K. W. Bradshaw; Logan, J. N. Edwards and R. G. Price; Christian, J. M. Morris and W. R. Elliott; Warren, Robert J. Dulaney and T. W. Thomas.

The second conference took place August 12 at Russellville.

Rush C. Watkins, of Louisville who originated the movement, has wired that he will be here. The Paducah Automobile Association is very anxious to have the road extended to McCracken county, and will have representatives at the meeting.

COUNCILMEN GET REVENGE

ON WOMAN MAYOR

City Fathers of Hunnewell, Kan., Allow Time For Levying Taxes To Expire Without Making Levy.

Hunnewell, Kan., Aug. 29.—The Councilmen of Hunnewell finally are "revengeful" on Mrs. Ella Wilson, Hunnewell's woman Mayor, who,
since she assumed office, she humbled the city fathers in a number of conflicts. The Councilmen have allowed the time for levying taxes for next year to expire without making a levy. As a result Mrs. Wilson faces the serious problem of how to secure enough money to pay the town's running expenses in 1912.

Mrs. Wilson was visibly disturbed to-day, but she declared her confidence in being able to adjust the situation. She said she was considering the institution of ousters suits against the Councilmen on the ground of negligence. Mrs. Wilson pointed out that there still was a way to secure the revenue by the collection of a poll tax, but the Council must pass an ordinance before this can be done, and the Council must pass an ordinance before this can be done, and the Council is firm and refuses to act.

ian with a request that it be published:

"Resolved, That the neglected and weedy condition of Riverside cemtery be brought to the attention of the city council with the earnest hope that this resting place of the dead receive greater care, in keeping with the affection buried there,
as well as with the dignity of a city

sistance to accomplish this work."

Kansas Bed Inspector.

Topeka, Kan., Aug. 30.—Kansas
now has an official inspector of bed-clothes. He is John Kleinbars, who has been directed by the State Board of Health to see that Kansas hotel patrons get what the law says they are entitled to when they pay their money. This includes sheets ninety-two inches long free from germs.

Kleinbars has already made his first prosecution under the law. A hotel man at Goffs was found to be using short sheets. He was fined $25.

State chemists are busy examining bedclothes gathered from Kansas hotels for microbes, bacteria and dust. The new law provides that all bed linen must be clean.

HE EXPLAINED THAT EASILY

Suspicious Black Hair on His Coat
Came From His Pronounced Brunette Horse.

"But why," he asked, as he pulled the branches of an oak tree to and fro in the extremity of his emotion and the calm June twilight, "why do you object to me?"

"There's something about you that I don't like," she answered, as she drummed fitfully against a birch tree with her fingers.

Apprehensively he scraped the bark from a tall pine tree.

"What is it?" he demanded.
"What can there be about me that could throw about you such a veil of restraint about this time?"

"The black hair about your shoulders," she answered, between clenched teeth and two rows of giant hickories.

He removed the hair and stared at it attentively. Then, barking playfully back at a dogwood tree, he laughed lightly.

"Oh, my love!" he exclaimed,
kicking a spruce tree in the ecstasy of his mirth, "I can explain that. I was rubbing down my horse this morning. The horse is a pronounced brunette!"

With a gurgle of relief she fell into his arms.—Philadelphia Times.

FISH TALE FOR VEGETARIANS

Captor of Thirty-Two Pound Carp Says He Saw It Picking and Eating Strawberries.

Fred Vosen, who lives near the Valley mill, has the champion fish story of the season, says the Springfield Republican. He captured a carp at the Lee Water company's reservoir that weighed 32 pounds.
Now, this part of the story is positively vouched for, but the surprising part follows. Mr. Vosen says he was fishing and heard on the shore what he at first supposed was a muskrat. On investigating it proved to be a big carp. He watched the fish for some minutes, and states positively that along the shore strawberries hung over the water, varying in distance from four to ten inches from the surface, and he was surprised to see the big fish bobbing his head out of the water and grabbing the berries. He watched him repeat the operation half a dozen times. He then tried his bait, and succeeded in hooking the fish, and had to shoot him before he could land him. Mr.
Vosen was accompanied by several friends, who state that his story of the carp picking strawberries is true in every respect.

OLD PROHIBITION BANNER.

A banner of much local interest has recently come to light at Liver-more Falls. The banner is made of white satin with a hand painted scene in the center and is about three feet square. The Temperance Watchmen's club in 1840 presented it to the Ladies' Band of Hope of East Livermore during the temperance agitation of those days which led up to the passage of Maine's prohibition statute in 1851. The old banner helped to bring prohibition and it will now have a share in the fight for the retention of prohibition in our Constitution.—Kennebec Journal.

BIRD STRUCK AUTO DRIVER.

A bird was the cause of a serious auto crash at Bradley, Cal., a few days ago. While William Winans was speeding his automobile a sparrow struck him between the eyes.
Winans was momentarily stunned.
He lost control of his car and it struck Dr. S. A. Disbrow's runaway, throwing out the physician and his driver. Both were seriously injured, Doctor Disbrow probably fatally. Winans was not hurt save by the blow from the flying bird, which struck him with such force that it fell dead at his feet.

ceived the degree of bachelor of

Who Was There That You Knew?

IN the shadowy ranks of those who marched to defeat or death or victory fifty years ago in the mighty conflict that convulsed this great nation, is there father or grandfather or uncle of yours? Would you like to see a photograph of him in that long ago day of his youth—a photograph that he never knew was taken? Perhaps we can show you one; and in any case, we can tell you a story, stranger than any detective fiction, of 3,500 priceless photographs that were lost and are found again.

3,500 Long Buried Photographs of the Civil War

THEY were taken by the greatest photographer in the United States of that day; they were bought by the United States Government for $30,000; they were buried in the War Department for 50 years—they are buried there still. But a duplicate set was kept by the photographer—who died poor and broken down; that duplicate set was knocked from pillar to post for nearly 50 years, until it was discovered by a New England collector. J. Pierpont Morgan, tried to secure the collection—Ex-President Garfield and General Benjamin F. Butler said it was worth $150,000—yet with the help of the Review of Reviews, the entire collection has been gathered into 10 great volumes and is placed within your reach at less than the value of one of the photographs.
It is the one accurate, impartial history of the Civil War—for the camera cannot lie. It tells the story of the War you never heard before. Taken under protection of the Secret Service, these photographs bring to light thousands of little-known phases of the war; they penetrate to strange places and record strange things.

WORK BERNHARDT'S RECIPE

Ravages of Old Father Time Held Back by Constant Activity and Regular Habits.

It was Carlyle who, in his dogmatic fashion, declared that the only true happiness of a man was that of "clear, decided activity in the sphere for which by nature and circumstances he has been fitted and appointed." There is, perhaps, little in common between the grim old Scotchman and Mme. Sarah Bernhardt, and yet we find the vivacious Frenchwoman still a mistress of her art at sixty-seven, and just about to sail for her native land after a tour of America, during which in the course of 35 weeks she has given 285 performances, 90 of them at one-night stands, netting for herself a round quarter of a million dollars and for the theatrical managers probably double as much, giving voice to much the same view.

"Can you," a reporter for the New York Sun asked her in English, "leave behind you a recipe for youth and beauty?" The question was interpreted and Madame smiled and gave her hand a deprecatory toss, the grace of which was inimitable. "He is gallant, this young man," she said. "There is no secret. But, yes, work! Always I work. One grows old slowly who works, for there is the satisfaction of accomplishment. I could not be idle. I would be miserable. Always I must be doing something. Plenty of sleep, a sparing diet and not too much fresh air, so!" Later Madame voiced her sentiments even more expressively. "Health," she said, "comes from the good God, but I work like the devil."

SOMETHING NEW IN EGGS

Penguin Fruit May Soon Figure on American Hotel and Restaurant Menus.

Penguin eggs from South Africa may soon figure on American hotel and restaurant menus. Immense numbers of them are being gathered on several of the islands off the southern extremity of Africa, and one dealer down there has offered to introduce them to the United States if some one will pay for the transportation of a sample case. The eggs easily could stand the journey, as the fast steamers make the run from Cape Town to Southampton in 19 days, thus bringing the penguin nest and the American epicure within a little more than three weeks of each other.

Ostrich eggs also are being used as food in South Africa, though naturally to a limited extent, as even there they do not grow on every bush. In California and Arizona, where the ostrich has been acclimatized, these huge eggs are not less esteemed for the table, but to eat them generally is regarded as a wanton waste of possibilities in the way of feathers.

California is less scrupulous about eating the eggs of gulls and murre, which have been gathered in such untold thousands on the Farallone Islands that steps have had to be taken to prevent the extermination of these two sea birds. In Texas not only gulls and terns but herons have been robbed of their eggs with similar deplorable results.

Fault Brought Home.

Dr. James T. Docking, the president of Rust university, once discussed, in a Fourth of July address at Holly Springs, Miss., the treason of Benedict Arnold.

"Arnold's fault," he said, "was as plainly brought home to him as the fault of Fenimore Cooper's friend. Fenimore Cooper gave a friend a copy of his last work, inscribing on the fly-leaf the words:

"To John Blank, with the author's affection and esteem."

"A few months later Cooper came upon this same book at a second-hand dealer's. He bought it in and sent it to his friends again with a second inscription:

"This volume, purchased at a second-hand shop, is re-presented to John Blank with renewed affection and reiterated expressions of esteem."

An Eye to Business.

They helped him tenderly into the taxicab which had struck him and the chauffeur, taking his address, mounted to the seat.

Arrived at home, the driver helped him into the house.

"Thank you," the injured man remarked. "As it was not a serious affair, we'll let it drop. Probably I was—"

"There's a dollar-fifty due me," the chauffeur interrupted.

"A dollar-fifty? What for?" the other gasped.

"My register says it's a mile out here from where you got on. That's a dollar. An' I always charge a half-dollar extra when I have to help a guy into the house!"—Lippincott's Magazine.

A Protest.

"I beg pardon," said the new arrival, "but it seems to me it's excessively warm here."

"Eh! What?" snorted Satan. "Evidently you forget where you are. This place is meant to be warm."

"Quite so, but there's such a thing as overdoing it."—The Catholic Standard and Times.

More Than She Knows.

"The last time I saw your husband he was trying to stop smoking. Has he stopped?"

"I don't know. You, of course, know that he is dead."

THE BOY AND THE BICYCLE

Fat Man Moved to Remorse After Witnessing Effects of Anger on Bike and Boy.

A fat man was complacently pursuing his way through a cross street. He carried an open umbrella and occasionally wiped his moist face on a large silk handkerchief.

Suddenly around the corner came a small boy on a bicycle. He turned so quickly that the fat man had no time to get out of the way. Nor had the boy any chance to sheer away from his bulky obstacle.

The front wheel struck the fat man a glancing blow, shaking his dignity and scraping his leg.

As for the boy, he and the bicycle went down with a crash. But the lad was up again in a moment and raising the bicycle bent over it solicitously.

The fat man was mad. He was so mad that he sputtered incoherently, and then with a vicious swing of one of his tan shoes kicked a spoke out of the offending wheel.

"There," he roared, "I guess that'll teach you not to ride on the sidewalk!"

The boy stared at the dangling spoke.

"What did you do that for?" he whined. "It took me all the year to save up for that bike—an' now look at it!"

And he knuckled his eyes with a grimy fist.

The fat man was touched. His rage suddenly vanished. He fumbled in his pocket and drew out a dollar bill.

"There, kid," he said, "take this and get the wheel fixed."

The boy let go of the machine and grabbed the bill.

"Say, you can have th' bike," he yelled, and scooted around the corner as fast as his legs would carry him.

TRAGEDY OF TOMATO VINE

Practical Person Makes Discovery After Neighbors Had Given Voice to Their Wonderment.

Now doth the amateur agriculturist flourish and wax proud at his Luther Burbank achievements, says the Brooklyn Eagle. One such nursed a lone tomato plant from delicate and sickly infancy to robust maturity. With all a mother's tender care he ministered to that plant. He watered it, brushed the dust off it, pleaded with it, encouraging it to better things. Then one day a member of the family rushed into the house with glad tidings. There was a real tomato on the vine.

What an assemblage there was about that plant! The block was depopulated temporarily. Amateur agriculturists climbed on each other's necks to view the wonder. The head of the house inspected it through a magnifying glass. His spouse clasped her hands and exclaimed: "At last we shall have our own salad from our own vine." Even the watchman from a row of empty houses nearby was called to look, and he remarked solemnly that he "never saw such a large tomato on such a small vine."

Then came along one of those horribly practical persons, who said it couldn't be, and had to have a closer look. He spied it all by his discovery that the tomato had been tied on with a string, and if you want to know who tied it on ask the woman who lives next door.

Know Your Work and Do It.

There is perennial nobleness and even sacredness in work; were he never so benighted, forgetful of his high calling, there is always hope in a man that actually and earnestly works; in idleness alone is there perpetual despair. Work, never so mammoth, mean, is in communication with nature; the real desire to get work done will itself lead one more and more to truth, to nature's appointments and regulations—which are truth. The latest gospel in this world is: Know thy work and do it. Know thyself—long enough has that poor self of thine tormented thee; thou wilt never get to know it, I believe. Think it not thy business, this of knowing thyself; thou art an unknowable individual; know what thou canst work at, and work at it like Hercules! That will be thy better plan.—Thomas Carlyle.

Nothing to Work On.

Gen. Horatio C. King, secretary of the Society of the Army of the Potomac, was narrating his memories of the Civil war. "We suffered many hardships on both sides," said General King, "but the Confederates suffered more. I remember a grizzled old negro who at the outbreak of the Spanish war applied for a place as an army cook. 'What experience have you had?' the old fellow was asked. 'I was cook, sah, fo' a Confederate regiment in sixty-fo'!' he answered. 'That is, sah, I had the job of cook, but, to tell the truth, I didn't work at it.' 'Why not?' 'There wasn't nothing to cook, sah.'"

Time Is Money.

"I want you to understand that my time is valuable. Time is money with me," snapped the man who had been held up.

"Is it worth as high as a dollar a minute?" asked the medicant.

"As much as that, at least."

"Well, I was going to take up about two minutes talking to yer, but since you are so all-fired expensive, I'll only use thirty seconds. Then you can give me the dollar and a half change, and we'll call it square."

CREAM OF NEWS COMPILED AND COLLECTED FROM ALL SOURCES

Geo. H. Shoaf, the socialist who reported the Amoss trial for the "Appeal to Reason," a Socialist sheet whose editor was recently pardoned of a jail sentence by the President, is missing and his paper thinks he has been killed. ### Dug Out Alive.

Madisonville, Ky., Sept. 1.—Falling slate at the Rose Creek mine near this city buried Charles Durham alive. The man was in his uncomfortable position only a few minutes. It is strange to relate, but the only injury he sustained was a broken leg. The fact he came out of the accident is a miracle.

Hook Worm Has'em

Do you suffer from any of the pains peculiar to weak women? ### ANCIENT SHEETS.

Newspapers Published in Hopkinsville Before The War.

Lafayette, Ky., Aug. 29.—We have in our possession two newspapers, which are probably older than any others now in existence that were ever published in Hopkinsville. One "The People's Press" published July 28, 1859, by Will D. Gentry & Bro., the motto of which was: "Here shall the Press the people's rights maintain, unawed by influence and unbribed by gain."

This was a Democratic paper and contains some very interesting reading in reference to the political issues of that time.

Among the prominent attorneys whose business cards appear on the first page are:

Arnold & Dabney, A. D. Rodgers, Joseph I. Landea, Hopkinsville, and John S. Spiceland, Canton, Ky.

The other paper, the "Hopkinsville Gazette," published May 1, 1847, by A. C. Goodall and E. N. Amoss, was a "Whig" paper and contains even more interesting reading matter than the other, having been published during the time of the war with Mexico. Nearly the whole of the first page is taken up by an article from the "National Intelligencer" in reference to "The Administration and the Army." The Administration was Democratic, Jas. K. Polk being president, and Gen. Zachary Taylor, who was at the head of the army, was a Whig. The article referred to shows very conclusively the venom and animosity felt by the Administration towards Gen. Taylor, although he had conducted the war very successfully.

The paper also contains a letter from Gen. Taylor to Gen. E. G. W. Butler, in which he gives a very interesting account of the battle of Buena Vista, where he with an army of less than 500 regulars and about 4,000 volunteers repulsed Santa Anna with an army of more than 20,000 men.

There is also an article from "The Matamoras Flag" speaking of Col. Jeff Davis and his Mississippi veterans as the heroes of the battle-field of Buena Vista. There is also an article in reference to a meeting of the Whigs of the LaFayette Precinct, on Apr. 24, 1847, in which James Gholsen was chairman and Ben. J. Hinton, secretary, the object of the meeting being to call a convention to nominate candidates for the various offices.

There are also many other interesting articles in reference to the war and politics.

Gen. Zachary Taylor is mentioned as a probable candidate for president.

Among the prominent advertisements we find the names of A. Gant & Sons, Jeffries & Trice, E. R. Edmunds, John P. Glass, McBath & Perkins, B. E. Gray, R. H. and A. J. Fraser and many others.

NEXT THING IN ENTERPRISE

Moving Picture Privilege at Fashionable International Wedding Should Sell for Good Sum.

The promoter of sporting events had hardly seated himself in his modest office when a male person of unmistakably English exterior opened the door and approached him affably.

"Old chap!" said he, "I represent Lord Harduppe, old chap. I'm his manager and all that sort of—"

"Lord Harduppe, who is to marry, Miss Nothyng-Butte, the American millionaire?" queried the promoter.

"The same, old chap. The wedding takes place Tuesday week. His lordship naturally could not call upon you in person, but any arrangement that I may make with you will be quite satisfactory to him, I assure you."

"What's his lordship's game?" asked the promoter of sporting events.

"Does he want me to pull off a prize fight at his bachelor dinner, or what?" The manager of his lordship smiled mysteriously, drew his chair a bit closer to the other's and whispered a few words.

"What?" cried the promoter. "No!"

"Yes, really; upon my word, old chap!" said his visitor. "You shall have the full American rights. All his lordship asks is 10,000 down and 40 per cent. of the gross receipts. You know, of course, old chap, that it's quite unprecedented socially, and all that sort of thing, but his lordship needs the money, as you Americans say, and, really, it's such a piping chance, he can't afford to let it pass."

"It will be the easiest thing in the world, you know, to hide the machine among the flowers at the altar. Why, my word, old chap, you ought to be able to book this thing in every theater in your blooming country!"

And thus, for the first time on record, was sold the moving-picture privilege at a fashionable international wedding.—Brooklyn Times.

GUARANTY OF HIS SILENCE

Presence of Masterful Wife in Church Stopped Objectionable Noisy Man Thought Was Singing.

Unexpectedly a city pastor who encouraged congregational singing gained a new parishioner. Keen though his delight in hearing his people sing, there was one member of his flock whose endeavors he never encouraged. But the man sang without encouragement, much to the discomfort of pewholders anywhere near him, who claimed that his loud, unmusical voice threw them out of time and tune.

Repeated complaints convinced the minister that somebody would have to assume the responsibility of silencing the ambitious singer. He decided that the man's wife was best fitted for the job. Owing to a difference in religious views husband and wife attended different churches, but the minister knew her, so he called and explained his predicament. She was genuinely surprised.

"Do you mean to say he sings?" she said.

"Tries to," he said.

She thought

have to come there to church, said.

"I shall be glad to see you," said the minister, "but what effect will that have on your husband's singing?"

The look she gave him was more significant than words, and they meant a good deal.

"John will never open his mouth when I am around," she said.

And John never has.

MONUMENT AT COST AND CARRIAGE!

We have leased our present quarters at 7th Street and L. & N. R. R.—must vacate by November 1st, 1911, at which time we will move into our New Quarters on North Main Street.

Monuments are heavy and expensive to move from one house to another. We have decided to make the prices move them into sales, instead of into a new house. COME AND SEE.

ANOTHER DEDUCTION.

"Have you written a play?"
"No."
"When do you expect to have it finished?"
"Have what finished?"
"The play you are writing."

NOTICEABLY AFFECTED.

"Did the jurors seem to be affected by Briefley's plea?"
"Yes. He kept them in a continuous yawn."

ITS NATURE.

"This angry correspondence is a war of words."
"Nothing more than a scrap of paper."

MATHEMATICAL REASONS.

"Seine makers ought to be rich men."
"Why?"
"Because their sales are all net receipts."

HIS IDEA OF BONES.

Teacher—Can you tell me how many bones are in the human body, Tommy?
Tommy—Does you mean in shad season or at other times, teacher?

EXHAUSTS THE SUPPLY.

Peck—I tell you it takes a lot of courage to propose.
Heck—Yes, so much that many of you husbands never have any afterward.

AMBIGUOUS.

"Is your son out of danger yet?"
"No, the doctor is going to make three or four more visits."

ATTACK OF THE OCTOPUS

Experiments Show the Cephalopod Cannot Drag Down Man Except
When Attached to Rocks.

There have been made abroad experiments with an octopus, in a specially devised tank of sea water, in order to test the truth of the many stories told of monster cephalopods dragging human victims to the sea bottom.

In the tank with the octopus there was placed a "dummy" of the same specific gravity as man, and this was baited with a crab. Attracted by this tempting morsel the octopus made for the figure, seized it in its powerful arms and tried to drag it under water, without success. It then urged its body toward the edge of the tank, and holding the glass with some of its arms, it dragged its prey beneath the surface and crushed the crab-shell with its powerful jaws.

It is believed that these experiments afford proof that the octopus can only drag its victims far below the water near rocks to which it can attach its suckers. There is one spot in the Bay of Naples where these creatures attain a large size and now and then a fisherman is reported missing. It is thought that such disappearances are due to the unfortunate man being caught by the leg by a concealed octopus and dragged under water. In the case of such a repulsive and powerful creature as the octopus it is difficult to separate fact from fiction.—Harper's Weekly.

FIRST PANAMA CANAL PLAN

Spain Surveyed a Waterway Route
Across the Isthmus Just 384
Years Ago.

It is just 384 years since Spain made the first exploration for a canal route across the Isthmus of Panama, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.
Those were the spacious times of Charles V. France and De Lesseps were a little earlier than the United States and Goethals in planning for a waterway across that neck of land between North and South America, but Spain was centuries ahead of both in taking a survey of the ground for a short cut between the world's two big oceans. Charles' engineers saw the feasibility as well as the desirability of a canal across the isthmus, but, although Spain was the richest of the world's nations at that day, she saw that this task would be large. Moreover, foreign and domestic politics interfered with the prosecution of her plans, although some work upon them was done.
And at some conspicuous point on the line of the waterways a monument will have to be erected by the United States to the memory of Balboa, the discoverer and the first explorer of the isthmus.

EDITOR GUESSED THE TRUTH.

Table chatter has led to more than one secret being divulged to the world. When Lord Mayo, the viceroy of India, was assassinated and speculation was rife as to his successor,
Mr. Delane, the famed editor of the Times, was sitting at dinner with Sir William Bull. During the course of the evening Sir William turned to Delane and said: "Lord Northbrook was asking me the other day whether the climate of India would suit him." The Times editor made a suitable reply, and soon after rushed off to his office. Next morning the paper he so ably managed announced that Lord Northbrook, the under-secretary of war, had been appointed viceroy of India. It was perfectly true, but Mr. Delane had merely guessed the truth.—Oscar Fricbet, in "No. 10 Downing Street," National Magazine.

PALEFACE BISCUITS A MENACE.

"Paleface biscuits and three square meals a day are depopulating the United States of noble redmen," says
H. M. Harjo, a wealthy Indian resident of Okmulgee, Okla.

"Before the coming of civilization the Indian thrived on beef and corn. Since he has been getting three meals a day his constitution has deteriorated. Naturally, the Indian isn't overfond of work, and the modern dishes are weakening his inherent stamina."

FIRST CHOICE.

Mr. Jawback—My dear, I was one of the first to leave.

Mrs. Jawback—Oh, you always say that.

Mr. Jawback—I can prove it this time. Look out in the hall and see the beautiful umbrella I brought home.

THIS WAS PERFECT HEROISM

Dr. Franz Mueller of Vienna, Victim of Bubonic Plague, Isolated Himself and Died.

Heroism has been defined as "the brilliant triumph of the soul over the flesh," that is to say, over fear—fear of suffering, of sickness, of isolation and of death. An instance of this dazzling and glorious concentration of courage is given in Mr. Frederick Rowland Marvin's recent book, "The Excesses of a Book Lover."

Dr. Franz Mueller of Vienna, who fell a victim to the bubonic plague when that disease was first under bacteriological investigation in that city in 1897, contracted the malady from bacilli in culture tubes. When he became certain that he was infected he immediately locked himself in an isolated room and posted a message on the window pane:

"I am suffering from the plague. Please do not send a doctor to me, as in any event my end will come in four or five days."

At once a number of his associates, all of them young physicians, with much to live for and with full knowledge of the chances to which they would expose themselves, stepped forward, and not only offered their services, but in some cases begged to be sent to Dr. Mueller. The patient refused to permit it and died alone within the time predicted.

At the end he wrote a farewell letter to his parents and placed it against the window, so it could be copied from the outside, and then burned the original with his own hands, fearful that it might be preserved and carry out the mysterious and deadly germ.

DOUBLE ACTION PRESCRIPTION.

On a wet and bitter night in winter old Dr. B. was summoned from his snug home to attend a farmer threatened with pneumonia, says Lippincott's Magazine. The farmer's wife, a little woman resembling a scared bird, reported that the patient called for hot punch, but that she awaited the doctor's permission before giving it.

"Make it," said Dr. Baird. "Make it as soon as you can, strong and hot, and let me see it."

The little woman soon fluttered in with the smoking punch. The doctor took it from her hands, examined it, smelled it, then drank it off and smacked his lips in critical satisfaction.

"Exactly," he said. "Give your husband one just like it, only half as much."

BEST REFERENCES.

When the language of business is applied to the practices of politics, as in this from Success Magazine, the effect may be instructive as well as startling.

Two negro men came up to the outskirts of a crowd where a senator was making a campaign speech. After listening to the speech for about ten minutes, one of them turned to his companion and asked, "Who am dat man, Sambo?"

"Ah don' know what his name am," Sambo replied, "but he certainly do recommen' hisself mos' highly."

YOUTHFUL THIEF.

Eight-year-old Anna Garry of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., who was arrested the other morning, is one of the most precocious child burglars the police have had to deal with for some time. Amongst the loot she had stowed away were found seven silk dresses, a savings bank with a considerable sum of money in it, two pocketbooks containing $4.50, two umbrellas, two white parasols, a red sweater, three pairs of silk stockings, three rings, five stickpins, a gold-handled umbrella and a shirt waist.

FOR PARENT EDUCATION.

Mrs. Frederick Schoff, who is working for an extension plan that will educate Americans in parenthood, is president of the National Congress of Mothers and the editor of a child welfare magazine. She is interested in every movement for the betterment of the child.

NOT GUILTY.

"Lady," began Hungry Higgins, "I'd thank yer for a meal."

"Ah!" exclaimed the bright housekeeper, "you're one of these after-dinner speakers."

"Not exactly, lady, or I wouldn't be so hungry. I ain't got so much as a chestnut about me."

QUEER RELIC OF CIVIL WAR

On Delaware River Island Is Old Cannon Through Whose Wheel Grew Lofly Elm.

A small island near the mouth of the Delaware river was used by the federal authorities during the Civil war to store captured confederate guns and other war materials, as well as for the detention of prisoners. When the ammunition was removed at the close of the war one mounted gun was overlooked. When it was first placed on the island a tiny elm tree was breaking the soil between the heavy wheels of the gun carriage. Since then the elm has become sadly twisted and distorted. The body, deflected by the gun, found its way to freedom between the spokes of a wheel, forcing them apart as it grew larger. The gun has since dropped to the ground and lies half buried in the mold, but the tree still supports the crumbling wheels in position. Hundreds of ex-confederate soldiers have visited the little island to see this old war relic, and a crippled veteran of Lee's army makes a tidy sum carrying visitors to and from the mainland in a launch.

Mr. Holdtite—No, I don't; but it looks as though I'd have to.

ROUGH TRAVEL IN PAPUA.

Rapids 120 miles long were discovered in the interior of Papua by the recent expedition of Mr. Staniford Smith, the administrator who returned to civilization after his reported massacre by natives. The party built rafts to descend the rapids. Their rafts were overturned, and the party strewn along the river for miles. It took five days to reunite, and when all were gathered together again they found that provisions, tents and baggage were lost, and they had 300 miles over unknown country before them. Although the rain was heavy, the expedition was 30 hours without water, as the coral valleys absorbed it as it fell.

SWEEP BY CLOUDBURST.

An appalling storm swept over the Tauber valley, in North Germany, a few days ago, making terrible havoc throughout the countryside. The region was surprised by what is described as a cloudburst, and three villages lying along a small hill stream, were overwhelmed by the sudden swelling of the torrent, which became a roaring river 600 feet wide. A shoemaker's house was first carried away, the whole family numbering eight, being drowned, almost without warning. The stream swept into the next village of Palmarr, where in a few minutes of forty houses only three remained standing.

WHERE COLLEGE MEN LIVE HIGH.

"When I was in the Imperial university here in Tokyo," a Japanese newspaper man said to me, "my father gave me $3 a month. I paid for my room, light and food $1.20 a month; for tuition, 50 cents; for paper, books, etc., 30 cents; and this left me $1 for pocket money expenditures, including the occasional treat of eating potatoes with sugar!" In such Spartan simplicity the victors of Mukden, Liaoyang and Port Arthur were bred.—Clarence Poe, in World's Work.

Thursday's Games.

Clarksville 8, Vincennes 7.
Jackson 9, Henderson 1.
Cairo 6, Fulton 2.
Paducah 4, Hopkinsville 3.

Wednesday's Results.

Paducah 10 Hopkinsville 1.
Jackson 6 Henderson 3.
Cairo 5 Fulton 0.
Clarksville 3 Vincennes 2.

All the leaders had off days Wednesday and Thursday. Paducah beat Hopkinsville, Clarksville beat Vincennes, Jackson beat Henderson and Cairo beat Fulton both days. These surprises have bunched things considerably, though Fulton still holds its relative position.

A new series will begin to-morrow, this being an off day.

The game here to-day is not scheduled and does not affect the percentage column. The Clarksville team has been considerably changed since it was here last, the present lineup being as follows:

Luttrell, 3b; Heck, ss; Zimmerman, 2b; G. Anderson, 2c; Garrett, 1b; Downes, cf; Taylor, lf; Gosnell, rf; Armstrong, c; W. Anderson, Maber, Applegate and Priest, pitchers.

The game will begin at 3 o'clock promptly and the T. C. and I. C. trains will be held until after the game.

Hot Number.

Paducah, Ky., Sept. 1.—For excitement the game between Hopkinsville and Paducah yesterday exceeded any that has been played this season. Up to the last half of the eighth inning the score stood 3 to 0 in favor of the visitors. Paducah went to bat in this inning and by continuous hitting and on two outs got three men across the plate and tied the score. In the ninth Nickol singled, went to second on Poland's sacrifice, to third on Pickering's single and scored when Webber hit him in the back with the ball as the runner was going home. The features were Pickering's throw to the plate in the sixth, retiring Lyons, and Fogg's accurate throw from deep short to the plate, retiring Jones in the ninth. The score:

Hopkinsville	3	7	1
Paducah	4	11	1

Batteries—Glass and Huhn; Nickol and DeRose.

Flies And Bunts.

Harold Irelan, Hopkinsville's star shortstop, has been sold to the Philadelphia Nationals, at a price considerably above the draft price of $300. Irelan's home is at Burnett Creek, Ind., and he played last year with the Wabash team. He came to the Moguls at the beginning of the season and played in 60 of the 63 games of the first half, making a batting average of .283 and a fielding average of .888. He has steadily improved as a player and is conceded to be the best shortstop in the league. Lloyd, of Paducah, bought him from manager Nairn at $1,000 Wednesday, the deal being effected by wire by the team officials here after a conversation over the phone. It is not believed that the sale will interfere with this season's work, but it may be that Irelan (by the way his name is spelled without a d) will have to report at once. A draft has been made for the purchase price, and it will be known in a day or two when he will have to leave.

Irelan is a fine young fellow, gentlemanly, courteous and tractable and his habits are good.

He is expected to make good in the higher company to which he goes.

Vincennes has been handicapped this week by the illness of Campbell and Bowers.

Troy Puckett, sold by Paducah for $500, has gone to join the Philadelphia Nationals. He was known at Paducah as Brown. He is a college pitcher and has a bright future in baseball. He has terrific speed and an excellent assortment of curves.

Pop Nairn put in a new pitcher picked up at Paducah, whose name was Glass, and gave him a tryout Thursday. We was "broken" to pieces by 11 hits and lost the game 4 to 3. At this stage of the game it is better to stick to the regular pitchers and give them the right kind of support.

Paducah has a new pitcher named Patton, from Omaha, who was taken sick the day he arrived.

Shinn, Clarksville's centerfielder, is out of the game for the rest of the season with a crippled foot.

Huhn and Glenn.

The Vincennes paper's are having it with the Hopkinsville exchanges as to which is the better catcher, Glenn, of the former team or Huhn, of the latter. Any unbiased person over the league would unhesitatingly say Huhn, who has it on the Hoosiers in his work as a back stop, on pegging, batting, running and head word. One former Hoptown catcher, Street, is a big leaguer—and Huhn will soon follow him.—Cairo Bulletin.

Notice To Tax Payer.

Come now and pay your state county and poll tax before the rush. The state and county need their revenue and I must make my settlement a month earlier this year, and I ask the people of Christian county to pay their taxes before I have to add the extra penalties required by law. Come now don't wait. Penalty added after Nov. 30th, 1911.

LOW JOHNSON,
Sheriff Christian County.

French War Cloud.

France still remains in a state of suspense over the outcome of negotiations between France and Germany, relative to Morocco. The Belgian Government continues to strengthen her garrisons on the German and French borders.

Inventor of Musical Glasses.

Richard Pockrich, an Irishman, was the inventor of musical glasses—ordinary drinking glasses tuned by selection and played by passing wet fingers over the brim. He showed his invention first in Dublin, and took it to London about 1750.

Improved Sewing Cabinet.

A sewing cabinet spacious enough to hold everything a seamstress may need in her work, yet which folds up like a screen and can be carried by handles has been invented by a Missourian.
